CLEMENCEAU ASSASSIN CAUGHT

SEVEN SHOTS FIRED AT "TIGER OF FRANCE" AS HE ENTERS AUTO; WOUNDS ARE SLIGHT

GET ARMED FUGITIVE IN FIGHT

Daylight Attempt to Rob Women; Shot Fired at Policeman

Pursued by a policeman he tried to shoot, Assam Panian was arrested after an attempt at noon today to hold up two women on Beacon street at the point of a gun.

Assam demanded money of Mary Cummings of No. 21 Canton avenue, Milton, and her sister, Cora Cummings, who was accompanied by two children. The holdup occurred nearly in front of the State House when crowds of people were passing and the street was filled with automobiles.

Miss Cummings screamed. Panian ran down Beacon street and at the corner of Joy street Patrolman James Smith, who was stationed on the crossing, attempted to stop him. Panian fired one shot but the officer succeeded in throwing his arm up and the shot went into the air. Smith seized Panian and took him to the station house.

He will probably be sent to the psychopathic hospital for examination. The police believe he is insane.

OPEN FIGHT ON LEAGUE IN SENATE

Poindexter Says Pact Will Lead to New Wars, Especially for America

Washington, Feb. 19.—Instead of bringing universal and enduring peace, a League of Nations based on the constitution read to the peace conference in Paris by President Wilson, will multiply the opportunities for war, Senator Miles Poindexter declared in the Senate today.

Senator Poindexter opened the attack on the League of Nations in disregard of the President's request that debate be suspended until he could confer with Senators and Representatives. The attack was begun, he said, "because the freest discussion is necessary."

While opponents of the league are asked to keep silent, others are busily arguing for approval of the constitution, he declared.

FIVE CHIEF OBJECTIONS.

Five specific objections to the constitution were made by Senator Poindexter. They were:

First, the surrender to the League of determination of the degree of disarmament as required by the constitution.

Second, compulsory arbitration of all questions of every kind, without exception.

Third, commitment of every nation to participate in wars and controversies of every other nation and the assumption of guardianship of peoples of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Fourth, the formation of an international labor bureau to deal with internal, social, economic and industrial problems.

Fifth, the surrender of the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations in arms and ammunition to the league.

ALLIES TO SCRAP SURRENDERED WARSHIPS

Paris, Feb. 19.—The surrendered German warships at Scapa Flow will be destroyed, the idea of dividing them among the Allies having been given up, it was reliably reported this afternoon.

London, Feb. 19.—Six more German battleships, eight cruisers, forty-two destroyers and fifty torpedo boats must be surrendered under the new armistice terms, according to the Times today. All German submarines will be destroyed, it was said.

The Times information was said to have come from an authoritative source. All of the afternoon papers make a prominent display of the Times' article.

The destruction of the submarines will be effected within fifteen days it was said.

The U-boats' docks will be destroyed also. The auxiliary cruisers will be treated as prizes of war, as would be the case with merchant ships. The fate of the great German naval base at Heligoland will be decided by the peace conference after the forts are dismantled.

Disarmament Will Not Prevent War, Shaw Declares

By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW.

(Copyright, 1919, by Star Company.)

London, Feb. 18.—I need not dwell on the question whether Germany shall be admitted into the League of Nations. If she be not, there will be no League: nothing but an alliance against her in which France and Italy will be able to use England and America to annex German and Austrian territory.

This is already so obvious that the jingoes of London and Washington, implacably anti-German as they imagine themselves to be, will be the first to discover that without Germany they would be at a heavy disadvantage in a League of Nations.

Will Make Annexations.

What is more, they are already at the same disadvantage in the absence of a League; for the French and Italian jingoes are masters of the situation, and are making no secret of their determination to annex parts of the Rhine-

Berlin, Feb. 18 via London, Feb. 19.—A mob made an unsuccessful effort today to storm the Moabit prison and liberate Carl Radek, the self-confessed agent of the Russian Bolsheviks in Germany.

After his arrest recently Radek admitted he had assumed leadership of the German Reds after the death of Karl Liebknecht.

TO DEPORT 17,816 ALIEN ENEMIES FROM IRELAND

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

London, Feb. 19.—Edward Shortt, M. P., chief secretary to the Lord Lieutenant for Ireland, will soon introduce a bill to deport 17,816 enemy aliens, it was announced today. The entry of aliens will be prohibited for a number of years. Seventy-four hundred enemy aliens have already been repatriated.

ATTEMPT TO KILL PREMIER FAILS

Paris, Feb. 19.—An attempt was made today upon the life of Premier Georges Clemenceau, world-famous statesman and one of the dominating figures in the peace conference. Seven revolver shot were fired as the Premier was leaving his official residence shortly before 9 o'clock. M. Clemenceau was wounded, but will recover, it was stated.

The police announced shortly after the attack that an assassin had been arrested. First reports to the police were that the assailant was a Russian.

The Premier was on his way to a waiting motor car when he was attacked. One bullet struck M. Clemenceau in the shoulder after passing through part of the framework of the automobile. Persons ran to the assistance of the aged statesman, but he was able to walk into his residence.

Spectators said that five shots were fired, but an official statement issued this afternoon declared that there were seven shots in all. Some of them passed through the clothing of the two men upon the driver's seat in the auto, but they were not wounded.

Medical attention was summoned as soon as the Premier had been removed to his residence and later a physician issued a bulletin saying that he had examined M. Clemenceau and found that the wounds were not serious.

M. Clemenceau had an engagement to discuss peace conference affairs with Colonel E. M. House of the American delegation at 10 o'clock. It was immediately cancelled.

MUST KEEP BIG ARMY ON RHINE, SAYS CHURCHILL

London, Feb. 19.—"Both to prevent war and to [illegible] the reparation we are determined to have it is necessary to maintain a strong and well disciplined army on the Rhine," said War Secretary Winston Churchill this afternoon at Mansion House today. "We have no thought of sending a large British force to Russia. If Russia is to be saved, it must be through the exertions of the Russians themselves."

GERMANY SURE OF ADMISSION TO NATIONS' LEAGUE, SHAW WRITES

land and of the Austrian Tyrol (to say nothing of Jugo-Slavia)—without regard to the irredentist movements which must follow such annexations.

The British and American jingoes may have no objection to these annexations as such; but they will object very strongly to feeling compelled to support them whether they object or not, and receiving no quid-pro-quo for their submission to the superior self-assertiveness of the Latin diplomatists. They will call in Germany sooner or later to counterbalance the South.

Thus Germany is sure of her admission. But it may be delayed, not on the ground that she is permanently ineligible, but on the ground that she has no settled government.

As we have seen, even the existence of a settled government would not make her eligible if that government were a restored Hohenzollernist divine right monarch or an irresponsible vigilance committee holding on by main force.

Germany Must Be in League.

But if a form of government emerges politically homogeneous with that of the League (and this is the most probable event), then there can be no question, if the League be an honest one, and very little question even if it be dominated by jingo jealousies, that Germany must be a constituent, and, from the Anglo-American point of view, a very desirable constituent.

Nevertheless, the Anglo-American jingoes, and, still more immediately, the Anglo-American doctrinaires, must reckon gently with the feeling in France which has already so nearly driven M. Clemenceau into a declaration of pure reaction toward the old diplomacy which, with all its drawbacks, has so signally avenged Sedan.

It is easy to sit down behind the British fleet, or on the other side of the Atlantic, and ask the inhabitants of Picardy and Belgium to feel safe in a new moral world within range of Long Bertha, and within a few minutes' flight of aeroplanes that drop earthquake bombs on sleeping cities.

Even London, who, safe as she seems comparatively, has for years past not dared to allow a clock to strike nor a light to shine from a window at night, nor heard the report of an anti-aircraft gun without a spasm of terror, knows better than that.

Demand for Disarmament.

If the old reliance on superior physical force is to be given up, the demand for security, which will be more imperative than ever, will take the form of a demand for disarmament. But not one of the Great Powers will consent to be genuinely disarmed.

M. Clemenceau has said definitely that France will not consent to the disarmament even of England: she will insist on the retention of the British fleet. But he will find that the question is not so easily disposed of as that.

The inhabitants of Picardy and Belgium, contemplating their levelled houses, gutted factories, hewn-down orchards, and crowed cemeteries, may say: "A plague on your British fleet! What worse could have happened to us if there had not been a British ship on the seas? Did we not starve with the Germans? Has an town or village in Germany suffered as ours have suffered?

"Was it not this fleet building business that began all the trouble? Who but ourselves have had to pay for it? And now you tell us that America is going to build a rival fleet and begin the mischief all over again?-"

Thus the very spectacle of devastation which urges M. Clemenceau to obduracy against Mr. Wilson turns out on closer consideration to be an object lesson in the need of co-operation with him.

Britain Won't Reduce Fleet.

This argument will cut no ice in England. If the British statesmen dared be candid they would say at once that no proposal for the reduction of the British fleet will be entertained for a moment and that it will be useless to argue that Mr. Wilson's fourth point: namely, "That national armaments will be reduced to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety," obliges England to reduce her fleet.

Here domestic safety absolutely requires command of the seas. It is difficult to see how the United States can take exception to this attitude, since their patriots have hastened to announce that they, too, intend to build an invincible armada.

And from the moment they lay down their first keel with that end in view the main business of every Secretary of State for War in England will be to do unto that fleet as England has already done to Germany's, unless the old order on which M. Clemenceau pins his faith be superseded by a new one, as Mr. Wilson demands.

Let us see how far the war itself has changed the problem of armament. It has certainly greatly lessened the value of disarmamant as a security for peace by demonstrating that a land armament including a conscript army millions strong can be improvised virtually in no time and that feats of transportation of soldiers across the sea which nobody believed possible a year ago are easy.

No nation can be prevented from making and secreting the jigs, dies and presses on which a rapid mechanical output of weapons depends.

Further, the most dreaded armament is now the aircraft armament; and the commercial aeroplane, of which there will be hundreds of thousands, is potentially a bombing aeroplane.

Nations Should Be Ready.

Psychologically, it has been shown that a complete preparation for war in time of peace, though every belligerent accuses the enemy of it, is impossible.

Everyone knows that as in the midst of life we are in death, we should always be ready to meet it, with our wills made, our consciences clear and our moral accounts balanced.

We know equally well that in the midst of peace we are at war, and should always be ready for the firing of the first shot.

But in one case as in the other, we never are. As we have seen, the British forces were the best prepared in 1914; but the preparation did not go very far beyond the normal establishment, and was ridiculously inadequate to the share that the country had to take in the land warfare.

In all the belligerent countries the age limit for conscription had to be raised during the conflict; and the armies had to learn their business, the rule at first being insufficiency and inefficiency on all sides.

The moral is that disarmed nations can put up quite as disastrous a fight as armed ones if they are determined to fight.

If the will to fight continues, the means will always be forthcoming. And the less skilled and the less prepared the belligerents are the more horrible will be the suffering and the carnage.

Possibilities Appalling.

On the other hand, the use of high explosives, poison gas, air craft and guns ranging up to seventy miles has made the possibilities of destruction and death so appalling, that the necessary precautions against them, even if effective, make life as intolerable for the civil population whom the armies formerly protected, as for the soldiers themselves: indeed, more so; for the soldier has nothing to do but deal and dodge death, whilst the civilians have to support the soldiers, support themselves and take care of the children into the bargain under this terrible fire.

The expense and demoralization are enormous. Formerly war was the sport of kings: an extravagance which they could afford and even profit by if successful.

There were cases in which even the losers were the better for the war. But now the expense is past a joke. That the income of the belligerents has never been better distributed than during the war, that millions of the combatants and their families have been better fed and clothed than ever in their lives before, that nevertheless colossal profits have been made by some employers, does not console the governing class for the reduction of their permanent incomes by more than one-third through income tax and supertax, for a fifty per cent. reduction in the purchasing power of the two-thirds that remain, and for the threat of "a levy on capital," which, though founded on the absurd delusion that the figures of the War Loans and Victory Loans and Liberty Loans are anything now but memoranda of claims for interest payable out of future production, may nevertheless have the effect of confiscating the interest and forcing property holders to mortgage their estates and their industrial stocks and shares to the government for nothing, as the government will simply write off the amount of the mortgage against the "capital levy" which has compelled the victim to mortgage.

Deaths from Pestilence.

Add nine million deaths from war pestilence, which is only faintly alleviated by calling it Spanish influenza; pile on the uncertainty as to whether even the victor can avert the revolution which is now practically de rigueur in the case of defeat, and it will be seen that Bloch—the Polish banker, whom the war was at first supposed to have signally refuted, has in fact been confirmed by it in his essential thesis that modern war has passed from the stage of wholesale murder to that of State suicide.

Therefore, the fact that the nations, though afraid to disarm, are yet more afraid to face the war for which their armaments are intended, may avert an absolute deadlock. Disarmament will not prevent war, nor, if it could, would that sort of preventive have much moral value.

The peace that is produced by disablement is worth no more than that which is produced by manacles and fetters.

The disarmament of nations will follow the course of the disarmament of individuals.

On the wild edges of civilization in America men carry revolvers and cartridges. If by chance they emigrate to New York or Boston or London, it is not necessary to disarm them: they sell their revolvers and buy umbrellas.

The measure is expected to prevent for a number of years both the entry of enemy aliens into Britain and the naturalization of such as may be allowed to remain in the country after peace is signed. Since the signing of the armistice, Britain has interned 7,400 enemy aliens.

Mystery Surrounds Krupp Gun City

By H. J. GREENWALL.

(Exclusive Cable by Universal Service and the London Daily Express.)

Essen, Germany, Feb. 19.—An everlasting smoke pall hangs over this town, the home of Krupps' famous gun works. But, besides, there is a cloak of mystery shrouding this place from the outside world. Neither Berlin nor Weimar knows what is happening here or what is about to happen.

Nominally the town is in government hands, but actually the soldiers' and workmen's council is in the ascendancy. I obtained a travelling pass from them to look over the surrounding country. Machine guns and other weapons are here in great numbers and unconcealed. One of the people's commissionaires asked me whether the Entente would make a separate peace with the Rhineland, which, he says, wants to break definitely with Berlin.

At Hagen, nearby, the soldiers' and workmen's council succeeded in stopping recruiting for the national volunteer army which Hindenburg is trying to raise. At Herwestorsten there has been fighting since Friday. Revolutionaries are blowing up bridges to prevent government troops from entering the neutral zone. The revolutionaries have some artillery. I talked with Burgomaster Hans Luther, who admitted to me that the city was practically controlled by the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, composed of Majority Socialists, four independents and three communists.

The strikes in this region are said to be partly of a political, partly of economic character. Lack of foodstuffs has a great deal to do with the unrest.

Heinrich Jaeger, leader of the strikers, contemplates no trouble unless government troops are sent into the town.

The whole of Westphalia seems in ferment.

PREPARED TO BATTLE FUGITIVE

Girl Held in Chelsea Auto Murder Insists She Is Innocent

Slowly but surely the meshes are being tightened in the net the police of Boston and Chelsea are drawing around the man suspected of the murder of Patrolman Charles F. Deininger of the Hanover street station.

As matters stand today four persons are held at the Charles street jail charged with murder. Not one of them is accused of having fired the fatal shot.

For the purpose of eliminating one or two phases of mystery in the case the police seek Herman Barney, known to have been friendly with most of those already under arrest. Barney has not been seen since Saturday night and there is an impression that he has left Boston for the West. In fact the Cambridge police declare that Barney headed West from that city.

PREPARED FOR BATTLE.

Special Officer Joseph Mattey and those engaged in the hunt for Deininger's murderer have been told that the slayer will not be taken alive. They have been informed that on Saturday night the murderer told a storekeeper that he anticipated arrest but that he would kill the officer who tried to take him. He carries two revolvers and is known to be an especially dangerous character.

The investigation into Deininger's slaying has resulted in the discovery of the identity of the automobile thieves who last Summer caused injuries to Lieutenants Maurice Finn, of the Metropolitan Park Police, and that hastened his death. Finn was run down by a band of men in an automobile stolen in Everett.

The Everett police had asked the Revere authorities to be on the lookout for the men in the stolen car, which was headed toward the beach boulevard. Lieutenant Finn saw them approaching, signalled for them to stop and then was run over. The man who drove the car that day was the same man who fired the shot which resulted in the death of Patrolman Deininger.

GIRL DECLARES INNOCENCE.

Marion O'Brien, Joseph Hurley, John Dillon and Joseph Colonna are at the Charles street jail awaiting hearing in the Chelsea police court. The girl remains firm in her declarations of innocence of the shooting charge. She even goes so far as to insist that one of the men who is in custody was not in Chelsea on the night Patrolman Deininger was murdered.

Special Officer Mattey, who is said to have been the object of the bandit's fiery, sweet most of last night, is a suburb seeking another girl believed to know considerable regarding the case. The authorities believe the other girl is even now in communication with the murderer. They believe she is shielding him, furnishing him with food and information concerning the case.

One particular place is under the closest possible police surveillance, and it is thought that if the murderer is still in Boston he will sooner or later visit this place.

SEEKS LOAN IN FLIGHT.

On Saturday night he went into a store in the South End and asked the woman proprietor for a loan that he might leave the city. She knew he was wanted by the police and did her utmost to detain him.

She failed, however, though he did stop and discuss his predicament with her. He declared then that a policeman tried to arrest him he would shoot or be shot. The man had barely left the store when a description of police entered. Though that official started at once to hunt for the murderer no trace of him was to be had.

FORBID POLICE TO GO BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Police Commissioner Curtis, in the most drastic general order that has yet appeared over his signature, forbids any police officer or employee of the department to apply for, object to, or advocate before the Legislature any act relative to the police department, unless expressly authorized so to do by the police commissioner.

The order would prevent the Boston Social Club, an organization of Boston policemen, from taking any action in legislation relating to salaries, working conditions or other questions by which members of the force are affected.

INDUCTED INTO ARMY FOR FAILING TO REPORT

Jose Pedro, a Portuguese, who works on a farm at Somerset, has been taken to Camp Devens, where he will be inducted into the army. He has been taken into custody by the Federal authorities as a deserter, having failed to report for military duty when his draft board called him last July. Pedro is believed to be the first man in Massachusetts to be inducted into the army under these conditions since the signing of the armistice last November.

FLIGHT TO WED, AND WINS

Five-Day Law Waived for Young Gibney of Patriotic Salem Family

Salem, Feb. 19.—Seventeen-year-old Alfred S. Gibney, a former member of the 104th Regiment, 26th Division, left his home to go to work on Tuesday morning, failed to show up at home at night and today returned with a bride nearly twice his age. She was formerly Miss Christine Dieffenbach of No. 36 Dunlap street, Salem, who, Alfred says, is "about thirty."

The pair were married in Kittery, Me., by Justice Aaron H. Cole after the five-day law had been waived. A little more than a week ago the Salem City Hall "to take out a marriage license." "Too young, don't give it to him," the father, John Gibney, said to the clerk when asked over the telephone at that time if he would give his consent.

The couple then decided to go to Kittery, where they were advised it might be possible for them to be married.

Young Gibney is one of several Gibney boys in the service and went overseas with the 104th more than a year ago. After six months' service in France his parents asked that he be discharged because of his youth. This was done. Mr. and Mrs. John Gibney drew a compliment from President Wilson a year ago because of the enlistment of the entire male personnel of the large Gibney family.

GIRL 'RAFFLES' HELD IN BAIL OF $1,300

Mabel Norris, Heavily Veiled, Confronted by Wellesley Girls in Dedham Court

Mabel E. Norris, the nineteen-year-old girl who was arrested in a room on Huntington avenue, charged with larceny of fur coats, gowns, waists and jewelry from Wellesley and Simmons Colleges, and from other exclusive girls' schools, was arraigned today in Dedham District Court. She was held for the April term of the Grand Jury of Norfolk County.

The "Girl Raffles," as she is known, was charged with these specific counts, and held in certain sums on each: Larceny of a fur coat, valued at $250, from Helen Burgess, of Wellesley College, $500 bonds; larceny of a gown valued at $50 from Elizabeth Dodge, $200 bonds; larceny of a ring, $25; another ring, $10, from Eleanor Dodge, also of Wellesley, $200 bonds; larceny of a necklace valued at $150 and a ring, $40, from Edna Love, of Wellesley, held in $400. Total bonds, $1,300.

PRISONER HEAVILY VEILED.

The girl pleaded not guilty to the counts, and Deputy Sheriff John H. Doherty, who made the trip from Charles Street Jail in a taxicab with her, told the court that she waived examination.

She was very heavily veiled and was dressed plainly in black, wearing heavy fox furs. Every attempt was made by the deputy sheriff and by Rev. Albert Crabtree of West Roxbury, who was also of the party, to shield the girl from photographers and newspapermen.

The alleged thefts were all committed at Wellesley College on the night of November 18 last. Eight or ten Wellesley girls who were in court and who occupied rooms in the dormitory from which the things were taken were asked to step up close to the girl and see if they could identify her.

DEPUTY SHERIFF OBJECTS.

Deputy Sheriff Doherty made objection to this, charging that the proceeding was irregular and was not in accordance with the rules followed in Boston, when the girl would be grouped with three or four others, and not singled out, alone.

Following the arraignment, Chief Harry M. Kingsbury of the Wellesley police, Rev. Albert Crabtree and Deputy Sheriff Doherty had a conference with Judge Emery Grover, following which Miss Norris was returned to Charles street jail.

CHAPLIN DIVORCE SUIT THROWN OUT OF COURT

Chaplin charged cruel and abusive treatment. He specified that his wife attacked him with a knife, and later tickled him under the chin. Mrs. Chaplin charged that her husband was cruel to her. He called her "old and homely," she said, and once told her that he wished she had broken her neck.

NEW STRIKE THREATENED IN LAWRENCE

Boiler Firemen May Walk Out and Cripple All Mills in City

Lawrence, Feb. 19.—Sharp criticism of Governor Coolidge for his refusal to take action in the Lawrence strike was made today by Samuel Bramhall, chairman of the general strike committee.

Bramhall charged the mill owners with paying bonuses to employees who induced strikers to return to work.

His statement regarding the Governor follows:

"The governor shows no sympathy for the working class in his refusal to meet representatives of the workers from Lawrence.

"He is, as such, not a representative of the people of Massachusetts, but merely the representative of one class and that the exploiting class of Massachusetts. He has refused to speak or act when the laws are violated by those in authority and only shows an interest when the laws are violated by the working class."

An attempt to get the electricians of the mills out on strike and thus darken the mills will be made tonight when members of the committee will talk to a meeting of the electricians.

The seventeenth day of the textile strike of 10,000 foreign operatives here was the quietest since Monday, February 3. Not one arrest was made by the police for the second time since the trouble began. There was a smaller number of pickets on the streets this morning than any day since the strike began, and there was a big gain made in the number of employes who went to work.

Tonight a very important meeting of all of the electricians of the mills will be held to take action on a strike vote, as it is reported that they are dissatisfied with the recent wages resulting from the forty-eight hour schedule. If the electricians should strike it is feared that all of the mills of the city would be tied up and forced to close down.

Following the lead are still out at the Pacific print works and the plant is only running a small section of the mill.

Near 200,000 Mark in Bonus Petitions for Soldiers

Nearly 193,000 persons have signed the Boston American's petition for six months' pay for soldiers, sailors and marines; with hundreds more coming from all over New England daily the 200,000 mark will quickly be attained.

Volunteer workers are not relaxing in the least their efforts to swell the total of supporters of this great petition so that when it reaches Congress it will show the solidly unanimous sentiment of the people of New England behind it.

Thousands of soldiers and sailors who are out of work in Boston are going to acquaint the public with the necessity for a six months' war bonus at a mass meeting to be held on Friday morning of the week in Boston Common, during which they will tell of their unsuccessful efforts to obtain employment in this city.

MANY MEN WITHOUT FUNDS.

Some of them are without funds; some have a few dollars, some of them has a job and there are a large number without any settled place of abode. They go from one to another of the lodging houses established by the agencies which are looking after the welfare of the soldiers and sailors.

"God help us if we don't get that six months' pay," said one of the soldiers who has hunted vainly for work for more than a month. "It could use it right now to the best advantage. I have gone everywhere looking for work and can find any. We don't want banquets, speeches and entertainment. We want work."

Who is to take care of these men until they find work? Who is going to provide them with clothing? Who is going to look after their families, their wives and children or dependent parents?

The answer to these questions according to the discharged soldiers, sailors and marines best qualified by the United States government and the way to answer them, in the way that is most logical and satisfactory to the service men is to grant them a six months' bonus. For lack of ready money, such as this would give them, scores of families are suffering and many are in actual distress.

HYDE PARK GIVES AID.

Any man who is opposed to granting six months' pay to the men who have been willing and eager to do and endure hardships which would become a quick retort after talking with these men and who have failed to contribute a single penny to the petition.

It is because they realize the opportunities given the service men that they would do in the country in this hour of this country's need that hundreds of people have volunteered to help the soldiers, sailors and marines by circulating petitions and securing signatures.

A. J. Blanchard, a merchant of Hyde Park and his assistant, Fred Lynch, have been actively engaged in securing the signatures of the residents of that section and have met with success. They report that they are engaged in patriotic work and have gladly given their time to it.

The street car employes of Lawrence are also generally worried over the strike that they cannot find time to do something for the men of the service. Thomas F. Burke, of 1 South Broadway, Lawrence, sent in the names of sixty men who are employed by the Lawrence and the street carmen's union of that city.

VETERAN ASKS FOR FUNDS.

A soldier who is a veteran of the Spanish-American War and enlisted to fight in the war against Germany writes that he has a wife and six children and considers that seven months' pay from the government, six months' pay from the government.

This soldier, who is a sergeant in the army, declares that he would like to have somebody whose better opportunities for making sale of their work that pays him very poorly, to see that the soldiers receive the bonus money which this bonus would give him.

The Soldiers' Service Bureau is also extending aid through its legal department to help in speeding up settlements of allotments and allowances to mothers of families, wives and dependent relatives may receive what is due them.

This is in many cases inadequate to their support and they are living over the time until the serving their can obtain work. The Soldiers' Service Bureau is also ready to help charged soldiers, sailors and marines or their families in any way that it can be of service to them.

The Soldiers' Service Bureau of the Boston American is dedicated to the purpose of securing justice for the soldiers and sailors of these wars. It is for officers and men alike. Answers to every day questions will be found in American daily, and many personal services will be done for soldiers and sailors as stated below.

The department is not merely operated as a question and answer column. It is co-operating with similar departments of the New York American, Chicago Examiner, Atlanta Georgian, San Francisco Examiner and Los Angeles Herald, and has headquarters in in Washington.

It also handles all questions of a legal nature and undertakes many kinds of legal work in the courts for officers and enlisted men in behalf of the Boston American and its associated papers throughout the country.

Please write any suggestion you have for widening the activities of the department.

Address all communications to Soldiers' Service Bureau, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston.

Persons finding the discharge papers of soldiers or sailors should make every effort to return them to their owners. A discharge paper cannot be duplicated. The War Department can only issue a certificate that the discharge has been given. Frequently the owner loses his original, and would greatly appreciate its return.

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU, 'TIGER' OF FRANCE, SHOT DOWN BY ASSASSINS

French Premier Attacked as He Leaves Home to Meet Colonel House.

ety is expected. King George sent the following message:

"I am shocked to hear of the dastardly attack upon you this morning. I earnestly trust that your injuries are not serious and that thanks to your splendid energy and courage you will soon be restored to health to continue your great and valued efforts for France and the allies."

The information that two assassins were involved was received by the French embassy. The American embassy learned from Paris that the Premier had been wounded twice in the arm and the head.

One of Premier's Assailants Nearly Killed by Paris Mob

Washington, Feb. 19.—One of the two men who today attempted to assassinate Premier Clemenceau of France was mobbed by a mob and almost killed before he was rescued by gendarmes, according to a dispatch to the State Department from the American embassy at Paris today.

According to the State Department advices the attempt upon the aged Premier's life was made while he was seated in his automobile just after leaving his residence.

The two men jumped to the running board before they opened fire. One of the bullets penetrated Clemenceau's shoulder, it was stated. His condition was believed to be not serious, the dispatch said.

Clemenceau Taught French in Connecticut School and Married a New York Girl

Premier Georges Clemenceau, or the "Tiger of France," as he has been nicknamed because of his fighting proclivities, was born in 1841, and has long been a prominent figure in French public life. He is serving his second term as Prime Minister of France, having been selected by President Poincare to form a new Cabinet in the stormy days of 1917. He assembled a ministry on November 16, 1917, taking the posts of Premier and War Minister himself.

When the peace conference met formally M. Clemenceau was named permanent chairman.

During the days of imperial France Clemenceau had to flee because of his republican political tendencies and lived for a while in the United States. He taught French in a school at Stamford, Ct., and there married Mary Plummer, a New York girl, from whom he was subsequently divorced.

PREMIER FIRST IN 1906.

The "Tiger" served his first term as Premier from 1906 to 1909. After his retirement he continued to wield a powerful influence through his newspaper. M. Clemenceau called his publication "The Free Man" but when the censorship became very strict, after the outbreak of the war, he changed the name to "The Man in Chains." When the "Tiger" became Premier himself for the second time, he changed the name back to "The Free Man" once more.

Throughout his long and adventurous career M. Clemenceau had always been known as a relentless fighter, and on many big questions in the Chamber of Deputies he led the opposition. His reputation for personal fearlessness made him a colorful figure in France. Before he was thirty years old M. Clemenceau had fought half a dozen duels and had won them all.

In a way the career of the "Tiger" was something like that of the late Colonel Roosevelt. Both were men of tremendous energy and of diversified activities. M. Clemenceau early in life studied medicine and always had a flair for political economy. He also studied sociology and wrote voluminously on the subject. After getting into journalism his editorials were noted for their strength and grace of language.

WROTE SEVERAL PLAYS.

Despite all of these labors, M. Clemenceau found time to write several plays. His comedies, however, were not quite so successful as his political activities.

M. Clemenceau's ambition in late years had been to see the war through to a peace that will give France all of her old glories—a peace that shall be enduring. M. Clemenceau opposed some of President Wilson's principles on the League of Nations, but then as ever it was recognized that the aged statesman was inspired only by love for France and inspiring patriotism.

When the Bolo Pasha case came up M. Clemenceau was relentless in demanding drastic punishment. He denounced M. Caillaux, former premier of France, and M. Humbert, former senator, for their connection with the "defeatists."

When M. Clemenceau took the helm of the French government in 1917, his masterful personality at once made itself felt and France increased the vigor of her blows against her enemies. The Premier made many visits to the battle front and distinguished himself for "wanting to see everything with his own eyes." He never knew the meaning of fear on these excursions.

Once he was nearly captured by the Germans. A bullet was narrowly missed by an exploding shell. These escapes were accepted as incidents and part of the day's work. M. Clemenceau filled to keep his eye on the spirit of the French troops, not trusting himself to written reports.

HIS ROMANCE IN AMERICA.

There was a romance connected with M. Clemenceau's short stay in the United States. He came to make a living by the practice of medicine in New York city, but failed. Then he accepted the professorship of French at a New England school for girls. He met Miss Plummer (who later became his wife) while she was a student at this school.

After his return to France the erstwhile exile plunged into public life and his vigorous methods quickly raised him to a national figure. It was not long until the name of Clemenceau was known throughout the civilized world.

In recognition of his service in the revolution against the imperialistic government, M. Clemenceau was appointed mayor of Montmartre. Some of his public utterances during this period have been preserved for their sledging sarcasm and irony.

M. Clemenceau was first called to the premiership by President Fallieres.

ALWAYS A SOCIALIST.

After his retirement the "Tiger" divided his attention between journalistic work and debate in the Chamber of Deputies. Although nominally a member of the Socialist party, he opposed the electoral reform bill in 1912 and in the following year his opposition brought about the downfall of the Briand ministry.

M. Clemenceau has always considered himself a Socialist, although not a member of the Radical wing of that party. It is a curious circumstance that many persons have overlooked, and upon which there has been little comment, that one of the most dominating figures at the peace conference has been a Socialist.

There is an interesting story told of the way the Premier received news of the signing of the armistice on November 11 last.

When the news had formally been received in Paris the members of the ministry filed into the Premier's office to congratulate him upon the happy ending of the war. The cabinet members here grouped themselves about M. Clemenceau's desk. The aged Premier sat alone, his head bowed in his hands. After several moments he looked up and tears were streaming from his eyes.

With his votes choked with emotion the Premier thanked his colleagues and told them it was the happiest day of his long life.

"Tiger" Spent 78th Birthday With U. S. Troops

Paris, Feb. 19.—American officers here today recalled that Premier Clemenceau had spent his last birthday, his seventy-eighth, with the doughboys on the line American front in the Champagne.

The "Tiger" was under fire at intervals during the day. He fenored the importunities of officers to retire himself to safer quarters in the rear, and once slipped away from his escort and completely "lost" himself in the trenches. He was later found chatting with a group of doughboys.

The officers made no secret of the relief they experienced when their distinguished guest at length took his departure for other parts of the front.

Premier's Most Serious Wound in Chest; Assassin Gave His Name as "Cottin"

New York, Feb. 19.—An attempt was made to assassinate Georges Clemenceau, French Premier, in Paris today by a man who fired five shots, said an official wireless dispatch received by the French High Commission today.

The Premier was wounded, but not fatally, the radiogram added.

Premier Clemenceau received three wounds, according to further details received by the French high commission. One wounded in the arm, another in the back and the third, the most serious of the three, was in the chest.

The Premier was just about to step into a waiting motor car when the attack was made.

The Paris police reported that the arrested man gave the name of "Cottin."

Fulfilled Promise to Regain Alsace for France

Paris, Feb. 19.—Friends of Premier Clemenceau date his reputation as a world figure in politics from the hour he signed his name to the manifesto of the Extreme Left of the French Assembly protesting against the cession of Alsace-Lorraine to Germany back in 1871.

The manifesto dented the right of the French Assembly or even of the entire French nation to cede the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine to Germany against the will of the population, and promised the wronged peoples vindication, liberation from German rule, and restoration to France.

The Premier has lived to see that promise fulfilled.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sluggish and weak. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the poisonous urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, sour stomach, sore tongue in the morning and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and citrate lithia, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations in clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver to regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

SOFT NAVY JOBS REVEAL BIG GRAFT

New York, Feb. 19.—Money was made "going and coming," according to revelations made today in connection with an investigation ordered by Secretary of the Navy Daniels of alleged "shocking conditions" involving forgery, trickery and false swearing by certain men in the Third Naval District, whose headquarters is here.

At least one arrest has been made and a number of men are under detention, it was learned, while one man is reported to have been court-martialed.

BEAP HARVEST OF $500,000.

The plan of operation, which was said to have brought a tainted harvest of more than $500,000 to its promoters, was very simple.

In brief, the charges that have been raised are that there has been in the Third Naval District with particular reference to the Naval Reserve force a system of bribery of minor officials whereby:

1—Men who were physically unfitted for the navy or naval reserve were accepted for enlistment upon false medical records.

2—Men were assigned to duties far removed from the war zone and actual sea service.

3—Men were transferred from one district to another in order to escape sea service.

4—Men were permitted to continue their business activities, attending to their duties in the navy for an hour or two, or even less each day, and

5—Men were passed upon for early discharge from the service after the signing of the armistice.

That the "graft" was not inextensive is indicated by the report that the men received in all approximately $500,000 for seeing to it that special favors were granted to individuals in the service.

Preference for men who enlisted in the naval reserves was on sale at figures according to the subject's estimated ability to pay, it was said.

Jobs in soft-cushioned swivel chairs, far from the danger zone, were secured by those who could (and would) pay.

Higher navy officials were unwittingly made to aid the scheme through fine forgeries.

Promotions were engineered and "bomb-proof" jobs were doled out to men entirely fit for active service.

PROFIT AFTER ARMISTICE.

When the armistice was signed, there was of course, no further need for the faint of heart, who nevertheless liked to appear in a United States uniform, to seek "bomb-proofs." But the coterie saw an opportunity to further line their pockets when men who had refused to fight began in droves to seek enlistment.

A clerking business in getting them their discharge papers is said to have been carried on—until word of the traffic was carried to Secretary Daniels. He conferred with Rear Admiral Usher, commandant of the Third Naval District, and the investigation started.

WOUNDED MEN HONOR GUESTS AT ELKS BALL

Preparations have been completed for the First War Relief Ball of the Boston Lodge of Elks at the Copley-Plaza Hotel tomorrow evening. The ball bids fair to prove one of the biggest social functions of the year.

Invitations have been accepted by many prominent city and State officials and distinguished military and naval officers.

The real guests of the affair will be one hundred wounded soldiers who have returned from overseas and at present are located in hospitals in the city. The men will be transported to the Copley-Plaza from the hospitals in automobiles by members of the Boston Lodge.

WOULD PUT MERCHANT MARINE ON BASIS OF NAVY

New York, Feb. 19.—Seamen of the American merchant marine should receive exactly the same pay and be under the same discipline as bluejackets on the men of war, in the opinion of Vice-Admiral Albert Gleaves, U.S.N. He called the navy the "backbone" of sea power and the merchant ships the "sinews and muscle," which latter, he said, are at present dangerously flabby.

16 SOLDIERS KILLED, 50 HURT IN TRAIN CRASH

Vienna, Feb. 18, via London, Feb. 19.—Sixteen soldiers were killed and fifty injured when a troop train collided with a freight train near Mabresina today.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just say "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet will get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Advertisement.

ENVOYS LOOK FOR PEACE BY JUNE 1

By ROBERT J. PREW,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Opinion is crystallizing among the peace envoys that it might be possible to summon the German, Austro-Hungarian, Bulgarian and Turkish delegates into a full congress by the middle of April or the first of May, and that peace can finally be concluded by the beginning of June.

When President Wilson returns to Paris in the middle of March he will find the labors of the conference considerably advanced and a cut and dried program ready upon which he will be able to get to work.

WATCHING AUSTRIA.

The biggest question engaging attention at this moment is the military and naval strength that will be left to Germany after peace is formally declared.

The peace conference is closely watching the Austrian movement to form the German speaking peoples of Europe into a solid bloc.

The unofficial view is that Austria should be allowed to throw in her lot with her stronger northern neighbors.

All along Italy has taken the view that the peace conference should deal with this question in the same manner it had taken up the others.

The Servians have submitted a memorandum outlining their claims against Bulgaria. Servia is seeking a belt of territory along the Bulgarian frontier from ten to twenty miles wide which would bring her new frontier at one point in close proximity to Sofia.

The conference now is about to consider the Moroccan question. France is seeking free development in Morocco. Except in the sense of freeing herself of German interference, France does not seek any strengthening of her protectorate. She desires to retain native help in the administration of the country.

Information has reached the peace delegates that food conditions in Germany are very grave, and if relief does not reach the people the rations will have to be reduced by the end of March.

Lynn High Pupils Deny Flirting by Notes

Lynn High school pupils expressed indignation today at statements attributed to Superintendent Charles S. Jackson and teachers, to the effect that the pupils "make dates" and flirt by means of notes passed about the schoolrooms. Pupils interviewed at recess today said that any efforts made by Superintendent Jackson and the teachers to stop the writing of notes in the school would fail. They claim there is no harm in the notes, and deny most emphatically that the messages are chiefly in regard to "dates."

Pupils explained that the only means they have for communicating with friends in other classes is by notes left on the desks when the classes change rooms. They assert these notes deal with "business," and claim a right to continue to write them.

CHINA IS ALARMED AT THREATS MADE BY JAPAN

New York, Feb. 19.— China is alarmed over recent ominous threats by Japan, according to Professor Tsuliving Teng, dean of Pekin University. Addressing the Chinese political society here, he said: "We must always be ever watchful of the various methods of activity established by Japan in China. The invisible invasion now launched by Japan against China should meet with unified resistance."

DROPPED BY CHURCH, TAKES CASE TO COURT

Charles Henry Newman of Lynn has filed a bill in the equity court praying for reinstatement to the Hudson Square Baptist Church from which he was discharged May 5, 1917. He claims that the church constitution and the bylaws have been violated.

FITZGERALD TO GREET RETURNING HERO SON

Congressman-elect and Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald are in New York to greet the return of their son from overseas. They will then continue on to Palm Beach and remain there until March 4, when Mr. Fitzgerald will go to Washington to be sworn in as a Congressman.

TWO DESERTERS SENTENCED AT DEVENS

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Feb. 19.—Two privates were given six months' sentences for desertion in orders of two general courts-martial made public today.

Private Patsy Lapres of Lewiston, Me., a member of H Company, 26th Infantry, was sentenced to six months in the guardhouse at hard labor and the forfeiture of two-thirds pay during that period.

Private Glancy Wade, H Company, 2d Development Battalion, 151st Depot Brigade, a resident of Akron, O., was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the service, to forfeit all pay and allowances, and to serve six months at hard labor at Fort Jay, N. Y.

By order of Major-General McCain, next Saturday, February 22, Washington's Birthday, will be observed throughout the cantonment by the suspension of all drills except by necessary guards and men engaged in fatigue duty.

Major Arthur B. Hitchcock of the 26th Infantry was today designated commanding officer of the construction division of the Department of Utility.

First Lieutenant George E. Parker of the 26th Infantry has been appointed assistant judge advocate of the general court recently established at this cantonment.

Several small detachments of men from various military posts today arrived at Camp Devens. They numbered about sixty.

LLOYD GEORGE WILL TRY TO HOLD UP COAL STRIKE

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

London, Feb. 19.—Premier Lloyd George expects to meet representatives of the miners tomorrow to negotiate a postponement of the threatened strike pending a government investigation into nationalizing the coal mines.

HARVARD FRESHMAN HELD FOR THEFT OF THESES

Charged with the larceny of thirteen theses from students, Herbert Harvey, a seventeen-year-old freshman at Harvard University, was before the Cambridge District Court and was held in $200 bail. Harvey lives at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. His home is in Hackensack, N. J.

According to the Cambridge police, Harvey hid himself in Widener Library where the theses are kept, and secured a quantity of them. He then wrote letters to the owners, demanding money for their return.

Harvey was arrested, it is said, in the act of taking money from books where it was "planted."

Do not fail to take advantage of this remarkable opportunity.

As the number of these Special Vocalions is very limited, an early selection is strongly recommended.

Some of the Special Features:

Tone Quality: This Special Model Vocalion has the delightful life-like Vocalion tone. Due to size of the tone-chamber this instrument has unusual depth and volume of tone.

Cabinet: It has a beautiful mahogany Cabinet with the modern velvet piano finish. It has the dignity and case beauty heretofore obtainable only in high priced phonographs.

Plays All Records: Equipped with a Universal Sound Box, this Model Vocalion plays standard records of all makes so that your musical enjoyment may include practically all phonographic recordings of whatever name or make.

Record Filing Device: A new and convenient Record Filing arrangement enables you to find the record you wish to play more easily and keep your records in good condition.

Phonographs of this size and tone volume sell regularly at a much higher price. Here is an Aeolian-Vocalion—the finest, the most musical of all phonographs—rich and powerful in tone, refined and dignified in appearance—at only $79—unquestionably and by far the best value obtainable in such instruments today.

The Welcome Guest Has a Good Stomach

Not What You Eat But What You Digest Tells the Story. Eat Anything if You Follow With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

The Man or Woman Who Can Eat Heartily and Not Fade Away Is the Welcome Guest Anywhere.

Many people just hate to eat in company. They're afraid to crawl into some dyspepsia cure that's a disguised intoxicant. Business men often resort to this form of wealthless under the belief they can work better. But it isn't what you eat, but what you digest, that counts. Some stomachs can't digest even a glass of milk, but they simply keep on feeding dyspepsia, and gas, water brash, sour risings and so on, that the better informed and hearty eaters entirely avoid. They do it by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many physicians prescribe them for indigestion, dyspepsia and other digestive disorders. They are sold at every drug store, everywhere, price 60 cents a box.

Ask your druggist more about them.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not completely eliminates from the system, poisons the blood and is food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of poisons arise headaches and pimples; the poisons are formed and absorbed into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the stomach, bowels and system these poisonous accumulations and carry off the toxins and to sweep the entire alimentary canal clean of sour matter.

Those who wish to feel like new people, who want to look bright, clear eyed, full of vim, vigor and vitality, who want pure blood, a good complexion, a real appetite for good food, and who want to enjoy the delights of living, must get rid of the poisons and toxins. To feel fine, full of life, constantly bubbling over with energy and ambition, one should drink each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to which has been added a little fresh lemon juice. This is said to be a splendid method to keep the system free from poisons and to prevent the formation of more. Even those who are subject to sick headaches, biliousness, nervousness, colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, acidity, gastritis, colitis, insomnia and many other troubles are advised to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which is inexpensive and harmless, and begin to feel fine at once. STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Save Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once

If your nostrils are stopped and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage; it should relieve instantly. Your head will clear up, you can breathe freely, dryness, headache, sneezing, blowing, hawking and mucous discharges cease. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every catarrh sufferer needs. BUTTER PRICES DROP ONE CENT WHOLESALE

The wholesale price of butter fell today on the Boston Fruit & Produce Exchange, but the decline was a grudging one of only a cent in the pound. The wholesale quotations on eggs, new cheese and lard held firm.

The wholesale quotations announced today were:

Print butter	52 (off 1)
Tub butter	51 (off 1)
*Fresh eggs	49-52
*Storage eggs	37-38
*New cheese	31
Lard	23½

*No change from Tuesday.

Justification for the advance of food prices by many suburban stores when the market on these commodities failed to move ahead is one of the matters now under investigation by the Federal and Three investigators, whose campaign to stop food price juggling has been so vigorously supported by the Boston American.

The vast amounts of food of all sorts in storage explains the present high prices. When a commodity is kept off the market and the demand thereby increased, prices soar. The more food there is kept in storage the higher prices will go.

More than twice the amount of food stored in January of a year ago was in Massachusetts storage houses in January of this year. The holdings in all commodities are as follows:

	Jan., 1919.	Jan., 1918.
Eggs, case (doss.)	33,980	229,935
Eggs, broken out (lbs.)	182 100	355,177
Butter (lbs.)	28,1,245	1,860,148
Poultry (lbs.)	3,343,000	2,256,208
Game (lbs.)	1,069	18,557
Meat fresh (lbs)	6,542,345	19,808,151
Fish fresh (lbs.)	1,171,850	1,664,582

NOT IMMUNE YET.

The food administration has removed restrictions on eggs and egg dealers as regards the eight-cent profit margin, but this restriction removal is not sweeping by any means. Dealers without a conscience may be prosecuted under the Lever Act, the Food Administration says.

The Lever Act is the act under which the food administration was created. There will be need of a food administration for many months to come, and undoubtedly there will be need of prosecutions of food profiteers for the same period.

The Lever Act sets no margin of profit to cover all dealers in all localities. It says to the courts "Prosecute individual cases of profiteering where it is found that prices charged for commodities are in excess of prices necessary to the realization of reasonable profits. "A reasonable profit" is one out of which overhead expenses may be deducted and there will be left a net profit that is fair.

WILL DEFINE FAIR PROFIT.

To the courts will rest the decision as to what constitutes a fair profit in each individual case. Such is the ruling of the Food Administration in removing the 8-cent profit restriction in the case of all dealers without reference to location, rent, distance from shipping points and other particulars, all of which affect the retail price to consumers.

Meanwhile evidence against Greater Boston food profiteers is in the hands of United States District Attorney Thomas D. Higgins and under the federal investigation of excess charges for food is being conducted. Assistant District Attorney Daniel A. Shea, under whose personal direction the campaign is being waged, says the mass of investigators' reports will be carefully gone through and where a case of profiteering is discovered the case will be turned over to the Grand Jury which is now sitting.

GUNMAN SHOOTS BOY IN RAID ON STORE

Kenneth Soar, eleven, son of William Soar, of No. 42 Vinal avenue, Somerville, was shot by a gunman who held up and robbed his father in the Atlantic & Pacific store, 240 Medford street, Somerville.

The holdup man escaped after rifling the cash register of $32, but overlooked $200 which Mr. Soar, the manager, had in his pocket.

The boy was taken to the Somerville Hospital, where it was found that he had a bullet hole in the upper left arm.

Soar told the police that he was locking up to go home and had taken most of the money out of the cash register when a man about twenty-eight years old, six feet tall, wearing a dark green overcoat and soft hat of similar color asked him to open up to sell him a pound of butter.

No sooner had he re-entered the store, switched on the lights and gone to the refrigerator than the stranger displayed an automatic revolver, saying, "Get into the cellar if you don't want your head blown off."

Kenneth was sitting on a cracker box in the front part of the store. He was ordered to go, too. When he hesitated, through fear, the man grabbed him, pushed him toward the cellar, and then fired point blank at the boy, who was scarcely ten feet away.

GUNMAN SLAYER OF NASHUA BOY TAKEN IN NEWARK

Nashua, N. H., Feb. 19.—County Attorney John R. Spring was informed today of the arrest in Newark, N. J., of Wilfred Lord, formerly of Boston, charged here with the murder of his wife, Orra E. Tatro Lord, on December 19 last.

The former Boston man was arrested by Pinkerton detectives after a chase through half a dozen States.

The killing of Mrs. Lord is alleged by the authorities to have followed domestic difficulties, often patched up, which finally proved irreconcilable. On September 2, 1918, Lord brought suit for divorce against his wife.

Blood trickling down under the front door of the Lord apartment on the afternoon of December 19 attracted the attention of neighbors to the place, and the body of the wife was found in a closet with a 38-caliber revolver bullet in the head. The empty shell was found in the room, but the weapon was missing. So was Lord.

Acquaintances said they saw him running for a train shortly before the body of his wife was discovered, and it afterward developed that he had drawn all the ready money he had available and packed clothes for a long absence.

Lord is an electrician, and his wife, who was thirty-three years old, was a factory worker. There is one child.

EMPLOYES AND 'L' TRUSTEES IN HARMONY

Joint Statement Issued After Meeting of Union Leaders and Board

Complete harmony between the trustees of the Boston Elevated and the officials of the Carmen's Union, exists today, following a meeting between representatives of the union and the trustees.

The meeting was called to discuss statements made yesterday before the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs at the State House by James F. Jackson, chairman of the trustees, regarding forthcoming labor conditions.

Mr. Jackson intimated at the hearing that when the War Labor Board's award to the carmen expired there might be some difficulty between the trustees and the carmen concerning wages.

MEET LABOR CHIEFS.

James H. Vahey, counsel for the Carmen's Union; President Matthew J. Higgins, and Business Agent William J. Timmins of the union were the representatives sent to meet the trustees today.

Following the meeting in the trustees' room, the following joint statement was given out:

"At a meeting held this morning between the trustees and Messrs Vahey, Higgins and Timmons, representing the Boston Carmen's Union, the parties were in entire harmony.

"The statement of the chairman of the board of trustees before the legislative committee said nothing more than that the trustees would endeavor whenever any question arose to make an equitable adjustment of the wage question with their employes.

"Both parties are now bound by an award of the War Labor Board, which will end when peace is declared by executive proclamation. Until that time neither party can take up the wage question.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONS.

"They are all assured that it will be taken up in a fair and just way whenever an opportunity arises, if it does.

"The trustees made no suggestion that the wages should be changed from the War Board award.

"The relations between the trustees and the employes are perfectly harmonious, and the men are working in entire co-operation and sympathy with the efforts of the trustees to give better service under this Public Control Act."

HOLIDAY MAY BE DECLARED FOR WILSON'S VISIT TO BOSTON

mentioned as the President's choice for the attorney-generalship.

Judge Grosvenor today said that the President-elect will arrive off the coast on Sunday night.

In that event the formal visit to Commonwealth Pier might not take place until early Monday. Mr. Wilson's schedule for Monday includes a visit to the City Hall and the State House and gave time for a brief rest preparatory to his speaking engagement Monday night.

Mayor Peters is going ahead with his plans for the reception. These will be outlined to Mr. Tu-multy when he arrives.

Mayor Peters has received a number of letters from persons who have volunteered their services as ushers at the reception and parade. Many of these letters have been received from persons who have never before offered their services.

While considering the attorney-generalship with the Mayor and other leaders, Mr. Wilson will also take into consideration the matter of filling the post of ambassador to Italy, recently vacated by Thomas Nelson Page. In this connection it may be that some Massachusetts leader is rendered the compliment of being put on the case for attorney-generalship would in all probability go to the Middle West.

Trouble with the wireless apparatus aboard the George Washington has prevented communication with that craft. The convoying battleship the New Mexico has been taken over by officers of the First Naval District. Rear-Admiral Wood announced today that the station at Fitzer Cliff, Bar Harbor, had been in communication with the New Mexico.

The George Washington, being a naval vessel, will not be boarded until after medical officers from the First Naval District as well as the boarding officer of the Port of Boston have gone aboard and completed their examinations. The navy will extend President Wilson and the George Washington a royal welcome.

SENTINELS ON DUTY.

Rear Admiral Wood will order a fleet of 110-foot boats with mine-sweepers down to meet the big ship. He will accompany Mayor Peters and the committee down the harbor. The city steamer Monitor, together with the Tingley, Hubbard and Cobb, United States Shipping Board steamers, will go down the bay for the greeting.

During the day Colonel Williams, chief of staff, conferred with Rear Admiral Wood, Lieutenant Commander Robert Emmons and Charles E. Ware of Liberty Hall, concerning reception arrangements. Colonel Williams stated that unless orders to the contrary were received the President would be accorded the usual salute of twenty-one guns by the forts of the harbor as his ship steams up.

At Commonwealth Pier the Army will be in full control. There will be many sentinels on duty at the pier and along the line of march from the pier to the Copley-Plaza, where three floors have been reserved for the presidential party. The President will ride in an automobile with Mayor Peters and Governor Coolidge. A troop of cavalry will surround the presidential automobile.

Wonder if Mayor Peters will ride at the head of the parade to which will be entered Mrs. Lillie Devens, the boss of Boston and other nearby stations. The 26th Infantry will be in the parade.

Suffragettes who would invite President Wilson on his arrival here Monday will find themselves facing the United States Army in the event of their attempting it. The army will protect President Wilson and will not tolerate any of the suffragette tactics that have been the undoing of prominent visitors to Washington. Should the President be mobbed by suffragettes, he would leave the necklace to the mob.

The reception committee in addition to Mayor Peters is as follows:

Andrew J. Peters, chairman; Joseph Algeo, George Ames, Allen, Judge George W. Anderson, Seth F. Arnold, Louis Baer, Francis N. Balch, Francis E. Bangs, Edward F. Barry, Sanford Bates, Addison F. Mayor Peters will issue a proclamation calling upon all to honor the President. The mayor has not any authority to declare Monday a holiday. It is expected, however, that banks, stores and other business houses will close for the day. It will result in a three-day holiday for most people, as Saturday is Washington's Birthday.

GLASS WILL FIX INTEREST ON LOAN NOTES

International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Refusal of the House ways and means committee, after pounding judgment in Congress, to recommend that Secretary Glass be permitted to fix the interest rate on the Victory Loan bond issue, was responsible for the present plan for the substitution of short time notes for long time bonds on which he and the committee are now engaged, it was stated today by members of the committee.

Under the plan which the committee is expected to report to the House in the form of a bill in the next few days, the secretary would be able to determine the interest rate on the short time notes.

OPPOSITION WIDESPREAD.

So widespread was opposition in Congress to its relinquishing its right to him to fix the interest rate on long term bonds (Liberty Loan) that members of the ways and means committee pointed out to the secretary that, in their judgment, it would be hopeless for him to ask for such legislation as he originally submitted to them.

According to the tentative agreement reached Glass will employ the machinery for his proposed Victory Loan "drive" for selling the short time notes instead of long time bonds. The new "drive" will start not later than April 21. Glass announced, and a few days before that he expects to be authorized by Congress to determine the form and terms of the new securities.

It is explained the shore time notes would probably be for from one to five years.

The proposed notes would be divided into four classes:

Five years.

1—Notes of a low rate of interest and not subject to any form of taxation.

2—Note of a slightly higher rate of interest and subject only to State taxation.

3—Notes carrying a still higher rate of interest and not subject to the normal income tax, but subject to income surtaxes.

4—Notes carrying the highest rate of interest and subject to all forms of taxation.

CANADIAN CLUB ACTS ON LAURIER'S DEATH

At a meeting of the Canadian Club of Boston it was voted to send a representative to the funeral of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was a life member of the club and the following telegram of condolence was despatched to Lady Laurier:

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleaning at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this luscious, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

OPENS FIGHT ON LEAGUE IN SENATE

Senator Poindexter took up the constitution article by article, pronouncing many of its provisions "loosely drawn and unintelligible" and many others unconstitutional.

He said great stress upon the fact that no provision is made for the withdrawal of any nation from the league after one having entered it. This, he said, would inevitably lead to war. Just as the civil war in the United States was brought on by the denial of the right of certain States to secede from the Union.

In the simplicity of the machinery provided by the league covenant is very similar to the machinery of the soviet government of Russia, Poindexter claimed. The League of Nations is as much an effort at "internationalism," he said, as that being made by the I. W. W. and the Bolsheviki.

U. S. IN WAR WITH WORLD.

On the face, he said, several of the articles of the constitution could not be kept. He cited possible situations, in which the United States might be involved with foreign nations which he said could not be submitted to a league of nations. The failure to submit such questions, he said, would involve the United States in war with all other nations on the face of the earth.

Poindexter contended that a League of Nations is now in existence, for that the United States has not seen fit to join it, preferring to remain an "associate" rather than an ally of the anti-German coalition.

"This league—the most powerful ever formed, more powerful than the proposed new league ever will be—has been unable to wipe out all wars," he said. "Wars and military operations are still in progress while the constitution of the new league is being discussed."

WOULD MAKE U. S. "OUTCAST."

"Once we have entered into this fatal covenant our failure to obey the decrees of the league or of tribunals constituted under the terms of its constitution automatically makes us an outcast and a pariah among the nations of the world and plunge us into a state of war with all the other nations composing the league. And this is the frightful compact we are asked to make, to surrender our destinies to the league, with the awful penalty of immediate war upon us by all the combined nations composing its membership, should we decline in any respect to obey the decrees of the league however destructive they may be of our happiness or prosperity.

"This is the substitute we are asked to make for the peaceful and happy state under which we have lived during the greater part of our national career in peace and amity with the world."

DEMANDS FREE DEBATE.

Poindexter said that the constitution was "framed in secret" and that the President wished no discussion of it until he has had a "private meeting" with the Foreign Relations Committee of both Houses.

"If the proposals contained in the constitution of the league are meritorious, they will be strengthened by debate," he added. "If they are unwise or ill-advised, that fact may be disclosed by free discussion. No inquiry can possibly accrue to any one by the freest and most painstaking examination of all its provisions.

"If covenants are to be openly arrived at, this covenant of all others should be exposed to the light and to discussion in the open."

26TH DIVISION SAILS FOR HOME IN APRIL

ipacities of the Northeastern Department was informed that no plans had been completed for the division to return to this country on any specific date. According to information received by Colonel A. W. Yates the division had not been assigned to early sailings. Furthermore, Colonel Yates says it is only probable that the division will return to Boston.

Adjutant General Gilman Pfaller sent the following telegram to his Boston office today for publication:

In reference to General March's statement yesterday that it will be impossible before the 26th Division would return, I take pleasure in forwarding to you an exact copy of a telegram received from General Pershing at 9:02 this morning.

Mrs. Roosevelt at the Grave of Quentin

Paris, Feb. 19.—There was a touching scene at the grave of the late Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt yesterday when Mrs. Roosevelt, the mother, came to it for the first time and placed flowers upon it. Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt was shot down near Chamery, on the 2nd and Aisne-Marne front in France.

'REDS' ATTEMPT OVERTHROW IN PORTUGAL

By EDWIN CLEARY.

Exclusive Cable By the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Bilbao, Spain, Feb. 19.—Bolsheviists and anarchists have united at Lisbon and are attempting to overthrow the Portuguese government, according to information brought here from today by a British merchant ship that has just arrived from the Portuguese capital.

Government troops in the north are suppressing the insurrection there, but fighting is continuous at night in the streets of Lisbon. A number of persons are killed there nightly.

General Paiva Couceiro, leader of the monarchist army in Portugal, has disappeared. A republican army has entered Oporto. Wholesale arrests of the monarchist chiefs are being made.

An extraordinary change has taken place at courts. Crowds that were formerly cheering for Manuel (the former king) are now shouting the cafes and theatres singing republican hymns.

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

A Cincinnati Barber Tells How to Make a Remedy for Gray Hair

Mr. Frank Harbaugh of Cincinnati, O., who has been a barber for more than forty years, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

BRITON TO BUY GOODS FOR BELGIUM

London, Feb. 19.—Charles V. Sale, deputy governor of the Hudson Bay Company, No. 21 Birchspeare, recently was appointed executive purchasing agent of the British government. It was learned for Universal Service today. He now occupies the identical position which J. Pierpont Morgan and Company held in representing the British government in America during the early days of the war.

This means that Mr. Sale has the full weight of the Hudson Bay Company behind him and is able to draw upon one of the strongest financial reservoirs in Britain.

It means also that British manufacturers will get first chance on contract totaling millions of dollars to the exclusion of American manufacturers, because the British government has announced its intention of rebuilding Ypres and other destroyed towns.

ITALY DECLINES TO ARBITRATE LAND CLAIMS

By DR. E. J. DILLON.

Special cable to the Boston American and Philadelphia Public Ledger.

(Copyright by the Public Ledger Company in the United States and Great Britain.)

Paris, Feb. 19. — Italy declines to accept the proposal to submit her territorial differences with the Jugo-Slavs to arbitration by President Wilson.

The Italians contemplate the arbitration proposal from an angle of vision differing from that of opponents. Adopting arbitration in principle they declare that the question has become full in dispute on the interpretation of a treaty. Hardly of a treaty, because the Italians do not at present that is not the case. It is pointed out there is only one nation which has an opposed people to be emancipated and which has to be compacted into a nation, and whose legitimate frontiers are yet to be determined by the great powers of which Italy herself is one.

This decision is not to be taken merely by measuring kilometres, by counting heads or by abstract economists not by calculating and weighing the consequences of the sword's peace of this or that arrangement because the primary aim of the conference is to stabilize the peace of Europe.

FIVE HEADS BETTER THAN ONE.

The Italians further argue that if the utmost sagacity, knowledge, discrimination and caution be an indispensable to a right solution, surely no premium are more likely to possess these qualifications than are one of them, though he be the wisest. Again the conference has been convened for the settlement of this and analogous disputes, and it affords the safest guarantees on what rational grounds then should a one-man tribunal be preferred to it? The questions for a tribunal are not those already decided by history, but doubtful matters, and Italy cannot admit there is anything doubtful in facts which are established and principles which are recognized.

Nobody can challenge Italy's statement that Fiume is Italian, and nobody can demur from the application of Mr. Wilson's principle of nationality there.

What question is then submittable to a tribunal? This is one. Out of what territories is it advisable to construct the new Jugo-Slav state, having due regard to the interests of the world's peace? That, in the last analysis, is the problem, and it cannot constitute the subject of dispute between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, but only of a discussion among the delegates of the five Great Powers.

NOT TERRITORIAL DISPUTE.

To remove it from their competency and submit it for arbitration to one plenipotentiary would be simultaneously to reduce a problem whose bearings are universal to the dimensions of a territorial dispute between the Jugo-Slavs and the Italians. There are only a few arguments which determined Italy's resolve to decline the suggested arbitration. It is understood the force of the foregoing arguments is recognized by the plenipotentiaries of the other great powers.

Italy declares the Dalmatian coast and the city of Fiume are Italian, have been Italian for centuries and cannot be constitutionally without generating a frenzy of indignation among the Italian people, vindicating Mr. Wilson's fundamental principles and jeopardizing the world.

ASKS JUSTICE FOR WOMEN OF WORLD

Massachusetts suffragists pledged $6,300 in five minutes for furtherance of the suffrage cause at the banquet given by the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association to Madame Catherine Breshkovskaya.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, first vice-president, headed the subscription with $2,000. Others whose subscriptions mounted into the hundreds were Mrs. Benjamin F. Pitman, Mrs. Robert Gould Shaw, Mrs. William Boswell, Mrs. Oakes Ames, Miss Fannie Osgood, Mrs. John C. Lee and others.

Six hundred men and women, responding to the full panoply of evening dress, rose to their feet in a spontaneous tribute to a modest, unassuming little woman in a plain black gown, her sunny hair covered with a white lace cap, as she entered the brilliant ballroom of the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

RUSSIAN LEADER SPEAKS.

Madame Breshkovskaya said in part:

"It seems a miracle to me to be again in America, among her citizens who were my friends during the last fifteen years of my life. While I was in prison during my exile in the Siberian wilderness and after my return to Russia up to that very day I felt the friendly hand of the American citizens, and now, among them, it is as if I were at home.

"Especially now after all the experiences that mankind has been going through we see clearly what an immense need there is of ethical education and what if not woman is capable of performing this immense task which demands patience, steadiness, self denial and love—above all, love for love? We can understand the child's heart and mind so well as those who are born to be mothers and tutors to their own creation?

"Not until now the interest of every government has been centered upon the side of the physical forces of its population, of their aptitude to fulfil the special functions of the State's machine. We see now that it is not at all sufficient to have peace and welfare to make progress in the principles of friendship and brotherhood. We see peoples in antagonism to each other, full of defiances, jealousy and even hatred. Whole countries feel themselves offended and are already beginning to threaten each other again."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national president of the Woman's Suffrage Association, said:

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

"That little incident in the Senate the other day lost nothing to the cause of suffrage, except that there has been put a spirit of doubt into our own people when they ask: How did that happen?

"I believe that Mr. Wilson did as much for that amendment as any President ever did for any amendment, but Mr. Wilson's own party wanted to show that—though it might lead the world, he couldn't lead them."

Bilious?

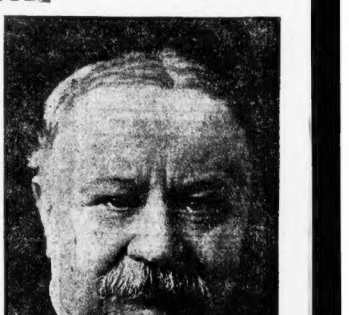
Former United States Senator Mason, Pioneer in Pure Food and Drugs Legislation, Father of Rural Free Delivery System Says Nuxated Iron

Increased His Power and Endurance so Much, That He Feels It Ought to Be Made Known to Every Nervous, Run-down, Anaemic Man, Woman and Child

Opinions of Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author; Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) New York and the Westchester County Hospital; Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of the City of Chicago and others.



What Senator Mason Says

Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:

I have often said I would never recommend medicines of any kind, believing that the declining years, even after the hardest political campaign of my life, without a care for a vacation, I had been compelled to court every morning with that horrible tired feeling one cannot describe. I was advised to try Nuxated Iron. As a pioneer in the pure food and drug legislation, I was at first loath to try an advertised remedy, but after advising with one of my medical friends, I gave it a test. The results have been so beneficial to my own case, I make up my mind to let my friends know about it, and you are at liberty to publish this statement if you so desire. I am now 78 years of age and I feel that a remedy which will built up the strength and increase the power of endurance of one at my age, should be known to the world.

Yours very truly,

Wm. Mason

Senator Mason's statement in regard to Nuxated Iron was shown to several physicians who were requested to give their opinions thereon.

Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author said: "I heartily indorse Senator Mason's statement in regard to Nuxated Iron. There can be no question but iron, when used in proper form, means anemia. Anemia means iron deficiency. The pale, pasty baby; the muscles lax in pale; the brain fags, and the memory fails, and often times anemia weak, nervous, despondent and melancholy.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician at Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said: "Senator Mason is to be commended on handing out this statement for the public print. There are thousands of anemic men and women who need iron, but do not know what to take. In my own opinion there is nothing better than organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for restoring the strength and endurance of men and women who have lost their reserve energy in the strenuous strain of the great business struggle of today."

Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of the City of Chicago, says: "I have taken Nuxated Iron myself and experience its tonic, invigorating and strength-building effect, and in the interest of the public welfare I feel it my duty to make known the results of its use. I am well past my three-score years and want to say that I believe my own great physical activity is largely due today to my personal use of Nuxated Iron. From my own experience with Nuxated Iron I am led to such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country."

While former Health Commissioner Kerr and Senator Mason admit his expenses in handling public health problems must give his opinion more than ordinary weight.

Dr. Schuyler C. Jaquith, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information, or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be derelict in my duty not to mention it. I have taken it myself and given it to my family with most surprising results in those who wish quickly to increase their strength, endurance or ill health. It is most remarkable and wonderfully effective.

"I do not believe it necessary to enable your blood to change your face to living. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You feel tired all the time, have no ambition, no appetite, you become weak, pale and sickly. Just take a pilot light and put it in a gas deficient in iron. If you are not full of vim and vigor, it is time you began to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which was used by Senator Mason with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended to his patients by physicians is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the other inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee it to make more strength and red blood in two weeks' time or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in the city by all good druggists.

From the Congressional Directory published by the United States government:

Wm. R. Mason, Senator elect Illinois, was elected to the 50th Congress in 1887, to the 51st Congress in 1889—defeated for the 52nd Congress—Elected to the 53rd Congress in 1892 to the 58th Congress in 1903."

Senator Mason is now Congressman from the State of Illinois.

Senator Mason's championship of Pure Food and Drugs legislation, his fight for the rural free delivery system, and his strong advocacy of all life saving labor and the rights of the masses as a safeguard against the encroachments of trusts and combines make him a national figure at Washington and endears him to the hearts of the workingmen and the great masses of people throughout the United States. Senator Mason has the distinction of being one of the really big men of the nation. His strong endorsement of Nuxated Iron must convince any intelligent thinking reader that it must be a preparation of very great merit and one which the Senator feels is going to be of great value to the masses of people. Senator Mason would not afford to lend his name to it especially after his strong advocacy of pure food and drugs legislation.

Lift Corns Off! Doesn't Hurt!

Don't let corns ache twice! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers—Here's magic!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic freezone discovered by a Cincinnati chemist.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly that old bothersome corn stops hurting, then shortly you can lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. Ladies! Keep freezone handy on your dresser. Wonderful!

Stocks Firm in New York on Higher Level

MARKET ACTIVE WHEN PRICES ADVANCE

Tobacco, Oil and Traction Issues Are Strong as Groups

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were firm in New York by afternoon and in most instances prices were at the highest level of the day. The trend had been upward after an uncertain period just after the opening. Kelly Springfield was an issue to sell at a high record price and among those to reach their highest for this year were Barrett Co. and Allis Chalmers. Baldwin held its strength. Tobacco issues, tractions and oils were strong groups. The market had been active, particularly on advances. A speculative pool is said to have accumulated most of the floating supply of Kelly Springfield stock. Another pool is said to be operating in Baldwin. Strength of United Cigar Stores was partly due to rumors of a stock dividend. California Petroleum sold at its highest since 1917.

LARGE GAINS BY SOME.

Largest gains around 2 points or its related Industrial Alcohol, 2%, at 107¾; Tobacco Products, ¾, at 88¾; United Cigar Stores, 1¾, at 120¾; Baldwin, 1¾, at 78¾; Sumatra, 1¾, at 107¾; Allis Chalmers, 1¾, at 34¾; California Petroleum, 1½, at 25¾; Barrett Co., 1¾, at 120½; International Paper, 1¼, at 43; and Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 1, at 24¾. U.S. Steel was unchanged at 91¾.

In Boston, the holiday feature was American Agricultural Chemical, which advanced 3 to 107. Other gains included: American Telephone, ¾, at 103, its highest here this year; Fairbanks, 1, at 86¾; Hayward, 1, at 127½; and Swift & Co., 1, at 128. Boston & Maine was off ¼, at 19¾, after selling at 21.

HIGHER AT OPENING.

Prices ruled higher at the opening, with trading of good volume. Among the preferential issues was a firm tendency before the market opened to construe as bearish the statement Washington that the government would raise money in other means than another bond issue. Bond issues was argued that the proposed policy would put too big a burden upon financial institutions. The active demand for securities did not sustain this view. Evidence of the great part the public is taking more interest in the stock market and that liquidation has run its course was found in the growing demand in the stock loan market is considerable, and rates are firm. It is said that the speculative interest has been reduced to an extent considerably altering the technical aspect of the market.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IMPROVES.

Reports as to trade conditions are encouraging and, with the exception of the country as a whole, it is said that the outlook for the future improved. There are signs of foreign buying of all kinds of products on some scale as can be financed. There is largely a question of granting credits, and if Americans are liberal in this respect they can obtain many of orders from abroad. There is expanding inquiry for goods from domestic sources. If labor troubles can be adjusted and prices out to what consumers regard as a reasonable level, a business boom would be inevitable.

French Steel Production

As a result of the recovery of the lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, France will become, when her industries are restored, second only to the United States as a steel producer. French steel production annually for the future is estimated as high as 15,000,000 tons. Germany's consumption is estimated at from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 tons. France must find a foreign market for about half of its steel.

COPPER METAL PRICE STILL DESCENDING

It is reported from New York today that producers are showing an inclination to reduce their price for copper metal and that as low as two of the largest have quoted 17 cents a pound to consumers. Yesterday large selling interests quoted 17½. Small dealers are offering metal at 18¾ to 18½ cents a pound. It is reported from all quarters that demand for copper is meagre.

COTTON IRRESPONSIVE TO FIRM CABLES

New York, Feb. 19.—The opening of the cotton market today was a poor response to the firm cables. March opened 5 points lower and later months were unchanged to 20 points higher. An accumulation of overnight selling orders filled the early demand, but support from Liverpool and Wall Street broadened the offerings and the list displayed a steadier tone. At the end of the first fifteen minutes quotations were about 10 to 15 points net higher, except May, which was up 3 points.

Opening prices were: March, 22.80; May 21.80; July, 20.70; Oct. 19.65; Dec. 19.45; Jan. 19.25.

FILE EARLY TO AVOID INCOME TAX RUSH

Return Must Be Accompanied by 25 Per Cent. of Amount of Tax

File your federal income tax return early and spare yourself the agony of perhaps hours of standing in line before the collector's window on the crowded closing days preceding March 15.

Your income tax return must be accompanied by twenty-five per cent. of the amount of your tax, which must be in the hands of Collector John F. Malley in the Little Building, Boylston and Tremont streets, on or before March 15.

Blank forms for filing returns have been sent out to all who filed 1917 returns this year. This year's tax covers the calendar year 1918. If you do not receive a blank through the mail you must go and get one without being notified to do so. Failure to file a return will cause you annoyance and expense. Fines and added taxes are assessed on all who delay making their initial payments beyond the expiring date.

MUST FILE RETURNS.

If you are married and earn over $2,000 a year, and if you are single and earn more than $1,000 you must file a return, no matter if the exemptions to which are entitled more than offset the amount of taxes. Your employer is compelled to file a list of all employees—with their addresses—to whom he paid more than $800 during 1918.

Do not attempt to evade or dodge the Federal income tax in any way. The "long arm of Washington" will get you if you do. Make the payment of your income tax a patriotic and religious duty. That is the proper spirit for all real Americans.

The new form for filing returns on individual incomes under $5,000 is a printed sheet divided into three parts. One part is called a "work sheet" on which a taxpayer may figure his income according to the guide provided; one part contains detailed instructions for making and filing a return; and the third part is a form for the completed return itself.

FORM FOR FARMER.

In addition there is a supplementary form for the use of the farmer in determining the value of his crops, livestock, corn products, livestock products and farm materials, sold and unsold, and farm expenses. The various sources of income and deductions are all itemized.

There are so many and various deductions from "gross income" that it is impossible to state in a limited space how considerable will apply to every individual case. The most graphic method of assisting a taxpayer in determining his income tax is by isolated examples, of which the following are samples:

SURTAX ON INCOME OVER $5,000.

If you are unmarried and not "the head of a family" you must pay 6 per cent. income tax on all you owe over $1,000 up to $4,000 and 12 per cent. on all net income less "credits" above $4,000. A graduated surtax increasing at 1 per cent. applies to all incomes above the $4,000 limit.

If your income for 1918 was $40 a week and if you are married and without children, you must pay a tax on all you earned above $2,000 which would be in this case 6 per cent. of $80, or $4.80.

A married person with four dependent children under eighteen and one dependent relative incapable of self-support would be entitled to an exemption of $3,000 but must file a return if the 1918 income was more than $2,000.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

A dividend of One Dollars per share will be paid on Tuesday, April 15, 1919, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Friday, March 14, 1919.

By order of the Executive Committee. Meeting the transfer books will be closed from March 15, 1919, to Tuesday, March 25, 1919, both days included.

G. D. MILNE, Treasurer.

Before We Commit Ourselves to the League Program We Should Know Where It Leads

On December 30, 1918, Mr. Hearst sent the following letter to the editor of the American:

Editor of the American:

The principle on which this country has grown to greatness, with but few destructive and exhausting wars, is "No entangling alliances with any foreign Powers."

A treaty of peace is one thing; an alliance is another thing, and practically just the opposite thing, for the one is a treaty to maintain peace and the other is a treaty to make war.

We want peace and we do not want war, and it is impossible to have alliances with European Powers without being dragged into the maelstrom of European competitions and conflicts.

We want peace through principle and through policy. We want peace because we belive in peace and because we have prospered through peace.

W have had an experience with a short European war, a war in which we have been actually involved for but little over a year, and in which we have only been fighting as an effective force for a very few months.

Yet in that short war the nation has lost a hundred thousand of the flower of its youth, and has registered in the casualty lists a quarter of a million men. In that short period the nation has incurred the unheard of indebtedness of nineteen billions, and will necessarily incur as a result of the war before we can return to peace conditions may billions more.

A whole generation will stagger under this load. The burden is very tangible and material. The benefit is not so evident.

In fact, the material benefits will all go to foreign nations. All the Allies will benefit in enormous territory and immense indemnity. England will add hundreds of thousands of square miles to what is already the greatest territorial empire in the world.

She will destroy her trade rivals, Germany and Russia. She will increase her commerce, increase her wealth, increase the area of her possessions and her taxable and available populations.

She will be more than ever mistress of the seas, and she will be mistress of the lands as well; we shall have the spiritual satisfaction merely of having piled up this power for England, which she may or may not at some future time use to our injury.

If there is a benefit for our country, therefore, it is a purely spiritual one, and with that we must offset the material burdens we will have to bear.

Let us hope that this war was all for the best, but let us hope with equal earnestness that we will not be involved in another European war, for no nation can afford to make too may material sacrifices for the aggrandizement of other nations.

It is time that this great nation of ours directed its thoughts and its efforts to the welfare of its own people, to the development of its own interests, to the aggrandizement of its own country.

We have done our duty to the world. Let us now do our duty to ourselves.

I heard Senator Reed speak Sunday night on the League of Nations.

Briefly, he said that EVERY ONE was in favor of peace—those who advocated a league of nations were in favor of peace, and those who did not advocate it were just as heartily in favor of peace.

He said a sick man earnestly desired to get well, but that did not mean that he was willing to take every quack nostrum that was offered him to cure his sickness.

He said what we have said—that this country had prospered and grown to be the greatest country in the world under a policy of no entangling alliances with European nations, and that not only Washington, but Jefferson, Madison, Monroe and Jackson and Calhoun and Clay and Webster and Lincoln and Cleveland had advocated a policy of no alliance with Europe, and had guided the country successfully under that policy.

Senator Reed said that we must realize that a policy of a league of nations meant an entire departure from the established policy of the United States; that we had come to the crossroads and that it was necessary for us either to continue on the road which we had previously successfully trod or to take a new road which was at best unexplored.

He said that people generally had not analyzed the meaning of a league of nations, did not realize what its activities would be; they did not even understand the machinery of a league of nations.

He said that a league of nations must either be one of two things—a league of all the nations of the world or a league of some of the nations of the world.

He said that if we decided to have a league of some of the nations of the world we would undoubtedly have a league of the nations which have been victorious in this war; that if that league of nations started out to do what the previous speakers had said a league of nations should do—that is, tell the other nations of the world how to conduct themselves, and compel the other nations of the world to abide by the decisions of this league of nations—that just as before this great war we had had a Triple Alliance and an Entente—two conflicting leagues of nations, with this great war as a result—we would have after the war our league of nations and the opposing league of nations, with the inevitable result of another world war.

Senator Reed said that the other alternative was a league of ALL the nations of the world, and that if we had a league of ALL the nations of the world, how would it be governed?

Professor Giddings had suggested that such a league be governed according to popular vote. Well, in such a case, Russia and India and China would outvote all the rest of the world. He said that the alternative in this case was to have a league of nations governed by the individual vote of each nation; and that if each nation had one vote, then Ecuador would have as much to say in a league of nations as the United States of America. Both of these propositions, and they were the only two general propositions, for a genuine league of nations, Senator Reed declared, led to impossibilities and absurdities.

Senator Reed said, furthermore, that we did not realize what obligations a league of nations would impose upon this country and upon the people of this country; that if we had a league of nations to decide by force the various difficulties in which the world of nations would necessarily be involved, we would necessarily have to have armies to police the world and to exert the force to compel recalcitrant nations to abide by the decisions of the league.

And that, said Senator Reed, means, men and women of America, that your sons will have continually to be drafted, as they were in this war, to go abroad to fight battles over matters with which the United States is not immediately concerned.

He said finally that Washington had not only said that we should not have entangling alliances with Europe, but that he had given the reason why we should not have them, and that that reason was just as good today as it was in Washington's time; and that the reason given by Washington was that Europe had a set of interests distinctly different from the interests of the United States of America.

He said that by minding our own business we had only become involved with one great war in Europe in a hundred years, and that in that period there had been nearly a hundred wars in Europe in which we would have been involved if we had not been minding our own business, but had been one of a league of nations trying to regulate the affairs of Europe and of the world.

He closed by saying that we had been involved in this war only because certain European powers had thought that we did not know how to fight and that we did not want to fight, and that we would not fight; but that after the lesson those Powers had received from this war he felt it would be at least a hundred years before any other Powers would seek to drag this nation into a war, provided this nation stayed at home and minded its own business.

Senator Reed said that Mr. Straus had declared that the war had been won by a union of nations which foreshadowed this league of nations; that the war was being lost until the Allies came together under a unified command, and that from that time on the war was won.

Senator Reed said that the war for the Allies continued to be lost after the Allies were under a unified command, and that the Allies were driven back day after day, even after Foch had been made Generalissimo; until finally Haig had said to his English soldiers, "Our backs are against the wall—we must stand and die"—and at that point America came into the conflict and that the soldiers of the United States changed defeat into victory at Chateau-Thierry, and never stopped advancing until they had finally defeated the enemy at the Argonne.

He said that it was NOT a union of the nations under one head that had won the war, but the wealth and power and fighting quality OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

And to preserve that wealth and power and fighting ability and use it only when we thought necessary to use it, in the interest of humanity and democracy, was the greatest contribution that the United States could make to the progress and development of the world.

I think Senator Reed is emphatically right as far as a hard and fast league of nations is concerned. Certainly, however, some steps should be taken in the direction of a peace league or universal arbitration tribunal, but I would not have the Hearst publications advocate anything more at this time than a convention or league of nations definitely to determine the disputed principles of international law, to declare the freedom of the seas and to establish and maintain the rights of neutrals when wars come which the Hague Tribunal cannot through arbitration avert.

To my mind, the abolition of war is like the abolition of slavery. It can only come concomitantly with the development of civilization, education and higher moral conceptions.

We can aid peace through arbitration, and we can insist upon freedom of the seas and respect for the rights of neutrals, but the attempt to compel peace by force will merely result in the extension of war.

Before, therefore, we commit ourselves in the support of the program of a league of nations, we should know more definitely what such a program means AND WHERE IT LEADS.

Personally I do not think the United States should ally itself with any European nations for the purpose of furthering the selfish and foreign objects of those nations.

On the contrary, I think the United States should in the main attend to its own people, consider its own welfare, develop its own wealth and power and make itself able and hold itself ready to exercise an irresistible force in support of its ideals and material interests, whenever a great and inspiring occasion shall create a compelling cause for it to do so.

By K. C. B.

Dear Mr. K. C. B.—Will you please write a column on persons who worry? There is a man named Sam in my shop who is always worrying, and if nobody puts him wise he will soon be all warped. You know what I mean.

S. B. H.

DEAR S. B. H.
IN THE first place
IT'S A waste of time
TO TRY to tell anyone
HOW FOOLISH it is.
TO WORRY about anything.
BECAUSE IT doesn't matter.
WHAT YOU tell them.
THEY GO right on worrying
AND GETTING thin
AND GETTING crabbed.
AND GETTING wrinkles.
AND GETTING gray
AND IN most cases
WHEN YOU tell them about it.
AND HOW foolish it is.
INSTEAD OF arguing.
THEY'LL AGREE that you're right.
AND GO on worrying.
AND WHEN they do that
YOU MIGHT just as well quit.
AND IN the second place
IF THERE was anything
THAT I could say.
THAT MIGHT help your friend
I CAN'T think of it now
BECAUSE THIS morning
I GOT a telegram.
ON THE train that I'm on.
AND I'M writing this.
AND THE telegram says
THERE IS a message for me.
AT THE telegraph office
IN THE town I'm going to.
AND I haven't any idea.
WHAT'S IN the message.
AND I'M worried to death.
FOR FEAR it's bad news.
AND OF course I know.
IT MAY be all right.
AND SOMETHING pleasant.
AND I remember one time.
I WAS on a vacation.
AND A telegram came.
AND I was afraid to open it.
FOR FEAR it would tell me.
THAT I was canned.
AND ALL it said.
WAS THAT my boss.
WAS GLAD to know.
I WAS having a good time.
AND TO take another week.
BUT IN spite of that.
YOU NEVER can tell.
WHAT'S IN a telegram.
UNTIL IT'S opened.
AND I'M worried stiff.
FOR FEAR the message.
THAT I'M going to get.
WILL BE from the boss.
AND SAY something like this
"WHEN WE hired you.
"WE HIRED a writer.
"AND NOT a tourist.
"COME ON back home."
BUT ANYHOW.
YOU CAN tell your friend
THAT IT'S awfully silly
TO KEEP on worrying.

I THANK you.

Letters to the Editor

Should Get Bonus

Editor Boston American:

Many of our boys have "gone West" and are not left to express their opinions concerning Sherman's definition of war. Those who came out with their lives, but went through the dangers and exposures, will agree with him. There were others standing ready, yes, eager, to pitch into the fray, thinking not of the dangers, only of duty. To most of them it was hell that they were not fortunate enough to have been earlier on the job. They have all given much for us. Are we going to let them suffer now?

They surely will if, when discharged, there isn't in their pockets a decent sum on which to begin life anew. Many of the boys need and deserve a good rest before starting a job—they all deserve some ready money. The person who begrudges the boys six months' pay is worse than a slacker.

Come along—sign up while the signing is good.

Here's to the Boston American—doing its best to help the dearest boys in the world!

Detention in Camp

Editor Boston American:

On reading the Boston American of February 15 I came upon an article, on the editorial page, regarding the Depot Brigade at Camp Devens, written by a sergeant, who is a member of the same. Allow me to give, not only my own opinion and corroboration of this article, but also that of nearly all of the men in my company. It is true that the civilian thinks that the Depot Brigade is demobilized. When one is outside of camp, one is greeted from all sides with these same words: "When do you get out? I thought that all of you Depot Brigade men were discharged long ago." When do we get out? That is what we ask, but no one can or will tell us.

We are discharging, or have discharged, men without dependents, without allotments, unmarried and without positions or professions to enter or take up when they were discharged. In this company we have two men with M. E. degrees. Both are privates and one is needed at home to help support his family. Five others desire to resume their studies at college, which were interrupted by the draft, and nineteen more have excellent positions which they may enter as soon as they can procure their discharge.

Moreover the men have become more or less lazy and indolent, which is caused by lying idle on their bunks from day to day. One's future is a question. This detention here at camp makes one less sure of his former position which is being held vacant for him in civil life, and lessens another's chance of continuing his studies at school or college.

We are told that we are doing our bit in discharging men from other camps, as we were not among those chosen to go overseas and that it is a patriotic duty, but it is our opinion that it is a submission on our part to an imposition by the government. It seems that the government could well afford to install field clerks to perform our periodic duties and grant us our discharges from the service.

Antiquity of Shorthand

Some form of shorthand was known to the ancient Greeks and Romans. There appears to be little doubt that the orations of Cicero were reported with a skill and rapidity equal perhaps to those of many modern stenographers. It is, however, difficult to state just how old is the system of abbreviated writing. The Greeks called it tachygraphy. Xenophon is believed to have employed this system of taking notes of the lectures of Socrates, which would take it back to the fifth century B. C. This is disputed by some authorities, but there seems to be no doubt about its use in the first century.

A NEW NOSE WITHOUT A SCAR

Displeased with your nose? Simple little matter to change it any way you'd like. They do it every day now—without leaving a scar. The surgeon just reaches in through the nostrils, removes lumps or growths, working his instruments from the inside, and avoids cutting the skin. Just how—is one of the interesting features of the next
